Commitment to Privacy and Responsible Use of Information

We respect your privacy and will not disclose personal details you provide us on this website to a third party or use it for purposes other than those that are stated on this website. We will not publish, sell, trade, loan, rent, disclose or re-use the information you give us. AXA is bound by the Privacy Act and the National Privacy Principles for the handling of personal information.

Information we collect

Data is collected from our website to determine which pages are most popular, peak usage times and other information that helps us make our web site easier and more efficient for you to use.

We also request your name and email address when you register with us on this site. This is used to personalise your next and subsequent visits to our site. In addition to this individual registration we set a "cookie" on your machine. A cookie is a small piece of information stored on your hard drive. The cookie links to your personalised information on our system. If you do not wish us to use a cookie you can set your browser so it will not accept them.

The website personalisation is specific to your requests and you don't have to fill in details about your current investments and policies.

If you disable the use of cookies on your web browser or remove or reject specific cookies from this website then you may not be able to gain access to all of the content and facilities of this website.

Links to other sites

There are links to other sites, which provide services for you on this web site. None of these links comprise or imply support or recommendation of any other company, product or service. We do not control and are not responsible for the information on any other site found through this web site.
